

hello

Wow what a great website.....it's nice to see some of the old gravestones again!!I visited Brecon and Llanspyyddid in 1982 and i have a couple of revisions to the gravestones for you. My name is Mike Probert and the gravestone of my ggg grandparents is located there. Under the listing

Probert ? of Pontwilliam

Probert, John of Pontwilliam

Probert, Jane of Pontwilliam

Pontwilliam is infact "Pontwillim" and refers to Lower Pontwillim Farm just outside of Brecon at Vennyfach.John & Jane Probert are my ggg-grandparents.The "?" refers to my gg grandfather James Prosser Snead Probert who departed this life on May 18th 1879 and was interred at St Paul's, Port Adelaide, South Australia aged 38.

i have attached a copy of this basestone, which i chalked in over 30yrs ago.

i am slowly checking the photos on your website and will advise if i find other errors/corrections.

best regards mike [Melbourne, Australia]

Update 2nd March 2015

Grave 294

an update of this record for you! I sighted this gravestone in 1982 and chalked out the basestone [photo attached]; it relates to my ggg grandparents and my gg grandfather, who died in Adelaide SA. The details should read as follows.....

Also in loving remembrance of Jane Wife of the above named John Probert who departed this life Oct 24 1883
aged 63 years

Also
in affectionate remembrance
of James Prosser Snead Probert Son of the above named John & Jane Probert who departed this life May 18th 1879
and was interred at Saint Paul's Port Adelaide, South Australia

best regards
mike probert